

Taiwan ODMs

Resilient general server demand and on-track GB200 ramp, sub-seasonal 2H25 NB build

We saw diverging revenue trends across Taiwan ODMs in May. Most Taiwan server ODMs have tracked ahead of 2Q revenue expectations, as stronger-than-expected general server demand and continued GB200 ramp have more than offset the FX headwinds. We have also seen similar revenue upside in AI GPU component suppliers, such as liquid cooling and PCB/CCL. In contrast, NB ODM build remains on track for HSD QoQ growth in 2Q, but initial feedback suggests a sub-seasonal 3Q25 at flattish QoQ. We attribute the slower PC build to earlier inventory build on tariff concerns and anticipate potential downside in upstream PC components in 2H25. Gaming PC demand remains the key area of strength with sustained VGA pricing premiums, while the key downside risk is potential supply constraints in 3Q during RTX 6000D server chip ramp. Overall, AI and server spending remains strong vs lackluster consumer-related demand. In the server ODM space, we prefer Quanta > Hon Hai > Wistron. We also like ASPEED and Wiwynn on resilient server demand and continued ASIC server ramp. We stay OW on Delta due to growing power/thermal content in AI servers. ASUSTek is our preferred pick in PCs due to lower-than-peers US market exposure, higher gaming exposure, and growing AI PC/Server earnings.

- General/ASIC servers: Better-than-expected demand in 2Q, likely sustained momentum in 3Q. ASPEED/Wiwynn's Apr-May revenues tracked at ~73%/80% of BBGe 2Q revenue estimates, driven by robust general server demand, potential early order pull-in, and AWS ASIC server ramp. Delta's server power revenue is likely to grow 30%+ YoY in 2Q25 as well. The initial 3Q25 traditional server demand outlook suggests sustained growth at flattish QoQ. For ASIC servers, we see robust AWS ASIC demand in 3Q25, despite the continued GB200/300 server ramp, which could help sustain Wiwynn's revenue momentum.
- GPU servers: Significant GB200 server ramp in 2Q/3Q25: We see continued GB200 server ramp across major ODMs (Quanta/Hon Hai/Wistron). Wistron's revenue grew 56%/162% MoM/YoY in May, mainly driven by significant ramp of L10 GB200 server shipment and Wiwynn strength (link). Quanta/ Hon Hai also saw continued yield improvement of GB200 rack assembly. Overall, we estimate 400-500/600-800/800 GB200 NVL72 rack-equivalent shipments for Quanta/Hon Hai/ Wistron in May and forecast 4-5k GB200 NVL72 rack shipments in 2Q. Looking into 2H25, we expect 8-10k GB200/300 rack shipment in 3Q/4Q25, respectively, with continued GB200 ramp and GB300 mass production in 4Q, sending full-year GB200/300 NVL72 rack shipments to 25k.
- PCs: May NB shipment largely in line, conservative 3Q25 outlook: Aggregated NB ODM shipments in May were up 11%/ down 4% MoM/YoY. Apr-May shipments were largely in-line with our and ODMs' expectations. Among ODMs, Compal's NB shipment build has been underperforming peers since 2H24, mainly due to m/s loss to Huaqin (603296 CH, covered by Cherry Liu) in a leading China PC brand, in our view. The initial 3Q25 NB ODM shipment outlook suggests flattish QoQ, which is sub-seasonal and conservative due to tariff uncertainty, early pull-in demand in 1H25, and potential macro weakness. The slow ODM build implies likely PC component inventory destocking in 2H25. ASUSTek is our top pick in the PC space given the higher gaming PC exposure.

- VGA/Motherboard: Strong 2Q VGA momentum, seasonal decline of MB shipment. Micro-Star's MB/VGA shipments were 900-1000k/500-600k in May (largely flattish MoM), similar to other vendors' trend. We have seen RTX50 VGA shipment upticks since late March due to improved GPU supply. RTX50 series shipment mix could grow to 70% + in 2Q vs <50% in 1Q25. VGA vendors continue to see S-D tightness given the strong demand and crowdout effect of VGA supply between server, desktop, and NB. Micro-star now expects VGA/MB shipments to be flattish to slightly down MoM in June. The product mix improvement, coupled with better-than-expected VGA shipment growth, implies strong VGA revenue growth in 2Q. Still, FX headwinds are likely to offset the margin expansion. In contrast, MB revenue appears to be down slightly due to seasonality. Overall, we forecast teens % growth/ slight decline QoQ of VGA/MB shipments in 2Q and 5% QoQ growth of 3Q25 VGA/MB shipments, respectively.
- Seasonal iPhone weakness. Hon Hai/ Pegatron's iPhone revenues were on track to be down seasonally in 2Q. Looking ahead, we continue to see seasonal weakness for EMS vendors, while component vendors (e.g. Largan) are likely to start the new cycle preparation (i.e. iPhone 17 series) from June/July. Overall, we are cautious on iPhone end demand given macro headwinds and tariff policy. The key upside risk is a breakthrough in Sino-US trade negotiations.

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:

J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock’s expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts’ coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst’s coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan’s Research website, <https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com>.
